Description

The REED R5005 is a rugged, waterproof (IP67) industrial multimeter built for demanding field and plant environments. It delivers True RMS accuracy across AC/DC voltage up to 1000V, current, resistance, capacitance, and frequency, plus temperature readings via thermocouple probe. A built-in data logger and Bluetooth connectivity let you record and wirelessly transfer readings, while the large backlit color display keeps values easy to read on the job.
