Description

The FOIF Quick Release Cradle (often used with the Claw™ or SureGrip™ series) is a rugged, professional-grade mounting solution designed to secure data collectors and controllers to GNSS survey poles. It is engineered for speed and stability, allowing surveyors to transition from pole-mounted work to handheld operation in seconds. Product Overview Designed for the demanding conditions of Kenyan field surveys—from the dusty terrains of Kajiado to the urban centers of Nairobi—this cradle provides a "slip-free" grip on your controller. The quick-release mechanism eliminates the frustration of traditional screw-on brackets, ensuring your screen is always at the perfect viewing angle for Civil ...
